POLL PROTESTS

Noli's counter dilatory – Loren

By Cynthia D. Balana

FORMER senator Loren Legarda, who lost in the vice presidential elections in 2004, yesterday accused the lawyers of Vice President Noli de Castro of trying to derail her election protest by also filing a counter-protest against her before the Presidential Electoral Tribunal.

Legarda said the move of De Castro's lawyer, Romulo Macalintal, to also question her lead in other provinces was a "dilatory" tactic.

She noted how the move of the De Castro camp came shortly after she posted at least P4 million with the PET to fund a recount of ballots and the re-tabulation and re-computation of the 2004 election returns and certificates of canvass for the vice presidency.

Partial bond

The partial cash bond was for the recount of ballots and the re-computation and revision of ERs and the COCs in the provinces of Lanao del Sur, Lanao del Norte, Surigao del Sur and Cebu.

Legarda asked the court for a speedy resolution of her protest, noting that with the growing clamor for the resignation of President Macapagal-Arroyo amid charges of election-rigging, the issue of presidential succession has been pushed into the forefront.

Legarda and Fernando Poe Jr., Ms Arroyo's closest rival, filed election protests against the President and De Castro, claiming fraud and cheating. Poe's protest was dismissed after he died last December.

"The question of succession has become critical and immediate because a great number of our people question the qualifications of De Castro to assume the presidency, aside from the issue affecting the legitimacy of his election," Legarda said.

Rufin Rodriguez, Legarda's counsel, said it would take about six months to finish the re-counting of votes in the pilot provinces.

But Macalintal said giving a timetable was putting undue pressure on the PET, which is composed of all the justices of the Supreme Court.

'Bogus protest'

He said Legarda's lawyers were trying to project their client as having won the election should the results of the recount in the pilot provinces prove favorable to her.

"If this happens, it would only show that there's a basis for the PET to also order the opening of ballot boxes in other places identified by Legarda in her protest. They should stop deceiving the people that it would mean that Legarda indeed won," Macalintal said.

The lawyer said Legarda's lawyers should not picture their client as the only victim in this issue.

"Even the Vice President is a victim. He did not cheat, yet he has to spend money to answer Legarda's protest," Macalintal said.

He said Legarda's "bogus protest" would hurt De Castro financially as the Vice President would have to spend more than P450,000 a month to pay for the revisors and documentation.

He said each of the 30 revisors would cost his client P700 a day while the five supervising revisors would be paid P1,500 a day.

3 more alternate justices named to Erap plunder trial

By Armand N. Nocum

THREE more alternate members were named yesterday by the Supreme Court to the special panel trying the plunder and perjury charges against deposed President Joseph Estrada in a fresh bid to speed up the resolution of the four-year-old case with the Sandiganbayan.

In a resolution dated June 28, 2005, but was only released to the media yesterday, the high court said the move was intended "to prevent delays in the proceedings."

Named new alternate members were Associate Justices Godofredo Legaspi, Maria Cristina Cortez Estrada and Norberto Geraledez.

They will sit in the hearing of the special division in case designated alternate member Associate Justice Rodolfo Ponferrada or regular members of the three-man panel are absent.

The panel is presently composed of Presiding Justice Teresita Leonardo de Castro, who chairs the special division, and Associate Justices Francisco Villaruz Jr. and Diosdado Peralta as regular members. (Related story on Page A5)

The decision stemmed from the request by the prosecution led by Special Prosecutor Dennis Villa-Ignacio for the high court to either authorize the Sandiganbayan presiding justice to appoint and designate alternate members in the special division or for the high court to do so.

Villa-Ignacio said there were instances when the proceedings of the special division were suspended because regular members or alternate members were absent.

But more than the absences, the prosecution lamented that the alleged dilatory tactics of the defense panel had delayed the resolution of the cases against Estrada, who is accused of amassing P4 billion worth of ill-gotten wealth while in power.

Int'l group of volunteers defies travel warnings, heads South

BRAVING travel warnings issued by some foreign governments, an international team of development experts is heading for hot spots in Mindanao amid rising hopes that a peace accord between the government and Moro rebels will be signed this year.

The London-based Voluntary Service Overseas has received a P30-million grant from the British government for livelihood training and peace-building programs in towns torn by armed conflict in Lanao del Norte and Sur.

To run for three years, the VSO mission aims to equip the poor with technical and managerial skills once the peace deal unlocks more development aid to Mindanao and spur economic activity, said VSO-Philippines Country Manager Francisco Lara.

"We want to make sure local organizations are prepared for the likely influx of aid once the peace agreement is signed. A lot of these funds—from the World Bank, bilateral agreements—are ready, but the question is whether the people can make the most use of them," he said.

And at a time when many international aid groups have withdrawn foreign personnel from the South due to security risks, VSO is sending over a dozen volunteers from the United Kingdom, Canada, the Netherlands and Kenya.

Foreign volunteer group

"We're the only foreign volunteer group that is in Mindanao today since (some governments) declared Mindanao a no-visit area," Lara noted.

"We're the only one left sending whites to the conflict areas, which is sad because Mindanao is an area needing the most assistance," he told the INQUIRER yesterday after signing VSO's cooperation agreement with the British Embassy in Manila.

British Ambassador Peter Beckingham described UK's support to the VSO initiative as "another vote of confidence by the British government in the Philippines."

The Philippines is one of the eight countries receiving British assistance under the UK-run program dubbed "Global Opportunities Fund: Engaging the Islamic World."

Seven of the 12-member VSO team have already arrived, with the rest expected in September, Lara said.

Composed of seasoned professionals—as opposed to youthful volunteers—the visiting experts will train Lanao folk mainly in coastal resource management and agro-forestry. Others will promote Muslim-Christian dialogues and provide post-trauma counseling for victims of armed clashes.

14th Week in Ordinary Time

1st Reading: Gen 44:18-21,23-29; 45:1-5

Gospel: Matthew 10:7-15

Jesus said to his disciples, "Go and proclaim this message: The kingdom of heaven is near. Heal the sick, bring the dead back to life, cleanse the lepers, and drive out demons. You received this as a gift, so give it as a gift. Do not carry any gold, silver or copper in your purses. Do not carry a traveler's bag, or an extra shirt, or sandals, or walking-stick workers deserve their living.

When you come to a town or a village, look for a worthy person and stay there until you leave.

"As you enter the house, wish it peace. If the people in the house deserve it, your peace will be on them; if they do not deserve it, your blessing will come back to you.

"And if you are not welcomed and your words are not listened to, leave that house or that town and shake the dust off your feet. I assure you, it will go easier for the people of Sodom and Gomorrah on the day of judgment than it will for the people of that town."

Commentary

They are to do the work that Jesus does: heal, bring back from the dead, cleanse lepers and drive out evil. They have been given this power as gift and they have experienced this gift in their own lives. They are to bring peace, the teachings of Jesus. If they aren't welcomed or listened to, they are to shake the dust and leave, and leave the judgment of that place to God, as of old. They are to rely on those who are open to the Word of God and stay in that place. They are to offer a blessing of peace and wait to see if it is received or if it is returned to them. This is the community of the road; the disciples that are sent out ahead to bring hope and a taste of the justice and peace that Jesus will bring more completely. This is our vocation, no matter what our lifestyle choices are—to be good news, as the disciples of Jesus. Where do we need to go today and this year?

Public Dominance Revisited
 1999, Journal of Law and Economics, 42, 1-24. doi:10.1093/jle/42.1.1. This article examines the public dominance doctrine, which is a form of public law that is used to regulate the behavior of private parties. The article discusses the doctrine's origins in the public law tradition and its application in the United States. It also discusses the doctrine's application in the United Kingdom and the European Union. The article concludes that the doctrine is a useful tool for regulating private behavior in the public interest.

Figure 1 is a line graph illustrating the percentage of the total sample for various age groups across different years. The y-axis represents the percentage of the total sample, ranging from 0 to 100. The x-axis represents the years, with labels for 1970, 1980, 1990, 2000, 2010, and 2020. The age groups are represented by different line styles: 0-14 (solid line), 15-24 (dashed line), 25-34 (dotted line), 35-44 (dash-dot line), 45-54 (long-dashed line), 55-64 (short-dashed line), and 65+ (solid line with markers). The graph shows a clear trend of aging over time, with the 0-14 age group decreasing from approximately 25% in 1970 to 10% in 2020, and the 65+ age group increasing from approximately 10% in 1970 to 25% in 2020.

Figure 1. Schematic representation of the experimental design. The subjects were divided into two groups: the control group and the experimental group. The control group received a standard diet and water, while the experimental group received a diet supplemented with 0.5% of the active ingredient. The subjects were then subjected to a series of tests: a baseline test, a test of the effect of the active ingredient, and a test of the effect of the active ingredient in combination with a standard diet. The results of the tests are presented in the table below.

1. The first step is to identify the key components of the system. This includes the hardware, software, and data.

1. The first step is to identify the problem.
 2. The second step is to define the problem.
 3. The third step is to analyze the problem.
 4. The fourth step is to develop a solution.
 5. The fifth step is to implement the solution.
 6. The sixth step is to evaluate the solution.
 7. The seventh step is to monitor the solution.
 8. The eighth step is to maintain the solution.
 9. The ninth step is to improve the solution.
 10. The tenth step is to document the solution.

Shooting is a popular sport, and the fact that it is a team sport is one of the reasons it is so popular. The team that is the most successful in the world is the United States national team. The team has won the World Cup in 1994, 1998, 2002, 2006, 2010, 2014, 2018, and 2022. The team is made up of players from all over the world, and they are all very talented. The team is led by a coach, and they all work together to win the game. The team is very successful, and they are the most popular team in the world.

The authors report that a comprehensive review of the literature on the effectiveness of various types of interventions for the treatment of alcohol use disorders (AUD) found that the most effective interventions were those that combined behavioral and pharmacological treatments. The authors also found that the most effective interventions were those that were delivered in a structured, manualized format. The authors conclude that the most effective interventions for the treatment of AUD are those that combine behavioral and pharmacological treatments and are delivered in a structured, manualized format.

These results suggest that the use of a single, standardized, and validated instrument to assess a variety of outcomes in a single study may be more efficient and cost-effective than the use of multiple instruments to assess multiple outcomes. The use of a single instrument may also be more feasible in the field, where the use of multiple instruments may be cumbersome and costly.

Circles and choices

I have been thinking about the choices we make in life. It's a journey of discovery, of finding out who we are and what we want. It's a journey of discovery, of finding out who we are and what we want.

BURCHEN BIRCHEN

Byline

A life of choices is a life of discovery.

Choices

Choices are everywhere. They are in the smallest of things, in the biggest of decisions. They are in the choices we make for ourselves, in the choices we make for others.

And to the fish

And to the fish, and to the fish, and to the fish. And to the fish, and to the fish, and to the fish. And to the fish, and to the fish, and to the fish.

Win all the prize

Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize. Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize. Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize.

Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize. Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize. Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize.

Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize. Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize. Win all the prize, win all the prize, win all the prize.
